

School Report for APCM 2024

The last term has been as busy as ever with the arrival of the new head and the very evident building works.

The school now has a full governing body- something which has not been in place for a number of years. The main priority for the school now is to work on the theologically rooted vision and values. This is then to be linked with the curriculum to ensure that all in the school community can flourish.

We are becoming increasingly involved in the school's collective worship and have worked with the CW council. Jane and I led the end of term church services and attended the fabulous end of term production of David and Goliath.

Communication with the school regarding CW remains erratic due to the immense work pressures faced by the CW leader, so we continue to offer our support and look forward to closer relationships.
